

Chapter 6: Religious-Genetic- Tribal-Nationalism

DOUBLE-CROSS
LOVE-BOMB

Similar to Chapter 5, but also exploring the role of genetics and race.

"Behold, I have set the land (territory, nation) before you:
Go in and possess the land (territory, nation)
Which the Lord swore unto your fathers
(Religious, tribal, genetic, racial, ethnic, community group)...
To give unto them and to their seed
(Genetics, children, race, clan, tribe, community) after them."
Deuteronomy 1:8.

Jewish Tribalism

REFERENCE: Maimonides, 12th century Jewish philosopher:

"...mutual help can be found in their perfect form only among those who are related by their ancestry.

"Accordingly a single tribe... (with a) common ancestor... help one another...

"The attainment of these things is the greatest purpose of the law."

Note: Miamonides is widely regarded as one of the greatest Jewish philosophers within the Jewish community.

Quotations on religious-tribal separateness

JUDAISM: "Neither shall you make marriages with them; your daughter you shall not give unto his son, nor his daughter shall you take unto your son." Deuteronomy 7:3.

JUDAISM: "...if you... make marriages with them... Know for a certainty that the Lord your God will no more drive out any of these nations from before you; but they shall be snares and traps unto you... until you perish from off this good land..." Joshua 23:12,13.

ZOROASTRIANISM (1,000 B.C.): "Marriage in the Aryan race is highly meritorious... When the true faith prevails among the families and races of those who are of the Aryan blood... Never should a hostile people enter these Aryan countries..." Zend-Avesta. [Zoroastrians, once a major religion, were defeated by the Greeks and Moslems, and now have a small area in India.]

HINDUISM (1,000 B.C.): "The religion of the Aryans was expressed in the hymns of the Vedas..." A Dictionary of Non-Christian Religions, Parrinder. [The Aryan Hindus set up a racial-tribal caste system in India, with economic discrimination, which often leads to resentments and high birth rates from those excluded. Like the Zoroastrians, their excessive partisanship created a dangerous backlash among others.]

BLACK NATION OF ISLAM, with Farrakhan: "...establishing an African-American nation on the African continent." Minneapolis Star Tribune, 3-6-90. [Do others also have a right to establish a hyphenated nation of their own?]....

SIMILAR WOLF PACK EXAMPLES: "(A professor) and his students from Purdue University have watched... two packs of timber wolves on a huge island in Lake Superior. The wolves have divided the island into hunting territories... The large one is occupied by a pack of fifteen or sixteen animals, the smaller by a group no larger than three or four. Yet the large pack is never to be found on the smaller pack's domain, despite the minimum resistance which the small pack could offer. Farley Mowat found the same recognition of rights among Arctic wolves... In one of the most hilarious yet penetrating books on animal behavior ever published, Never Cry Wolf..." Territorial Imperative, Ardrey.

RELIGIOUS- TRIBAL NATIONALISM

"Behold, I have set the land (territory) before you: go in and possess the land which the Lord swore unto your fathers... to give unto them and to their seed (genetics) after them." Deut. 1:8

Designer baby row over US clinic

A US clinic has sparked controversy by offering would-be parents the chance to select traits like the eye and hair colour of their offspring.

...expects a trait-selected baby to be born next year.

His clinic also offers sex selection.

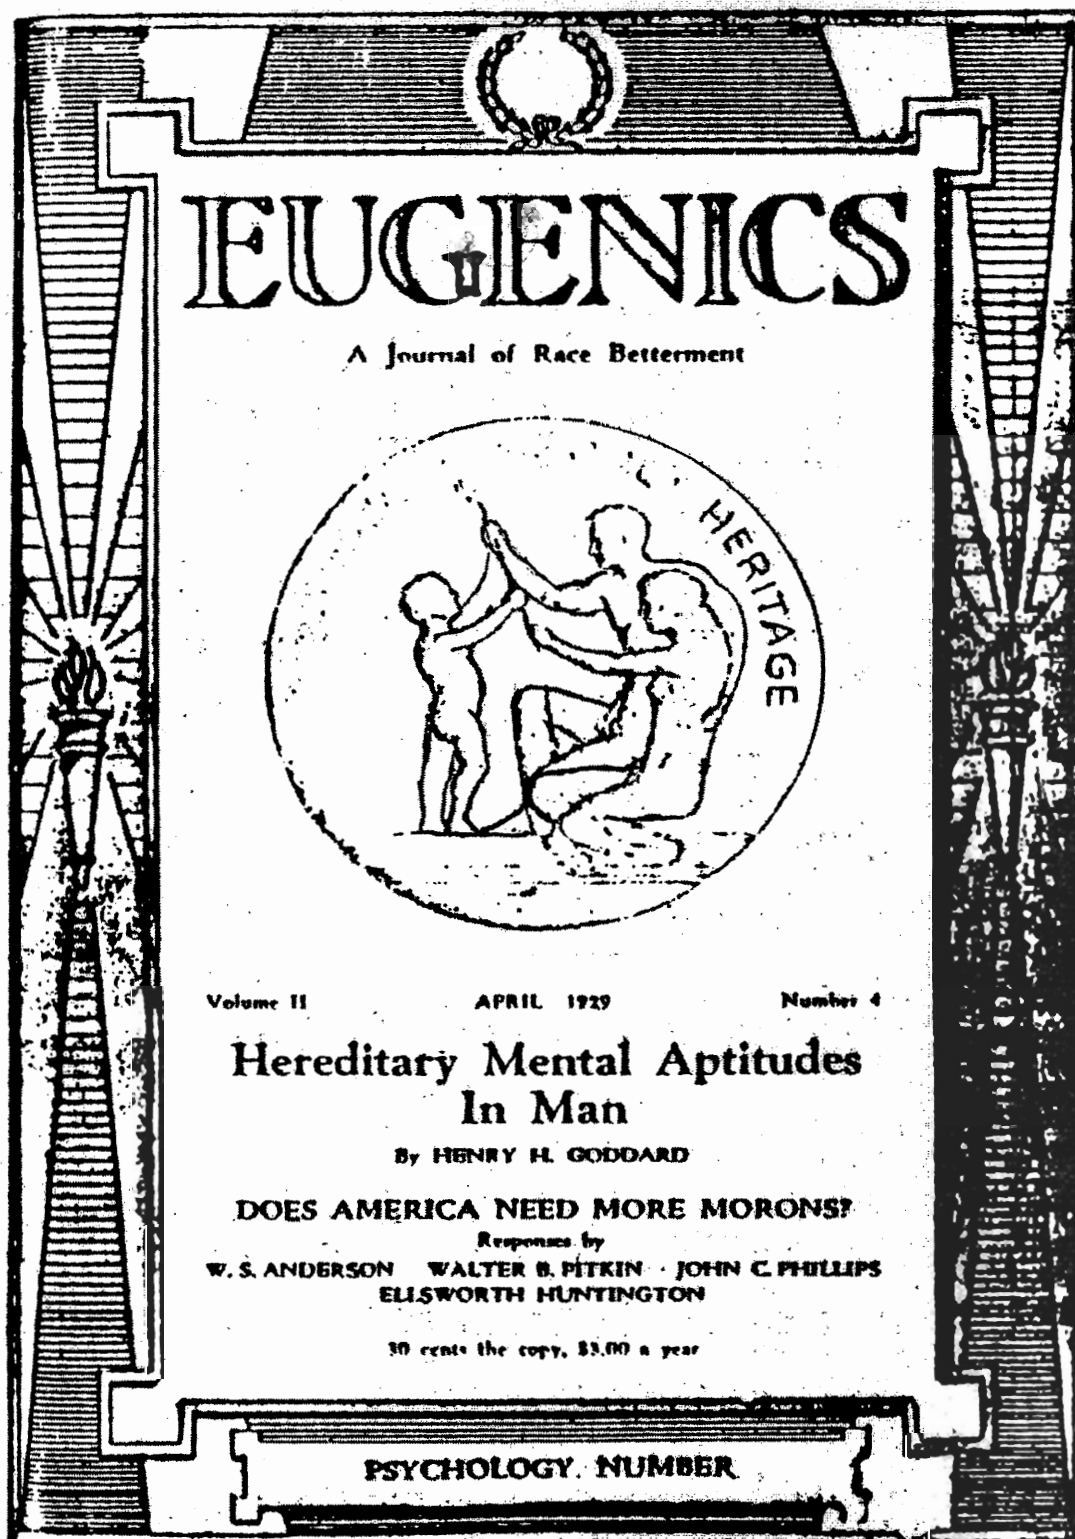

Dr Steinberg said couples might seek to use the clinic's services for both medical and cosmetic reasons.

He said the capability to offer such services had been around for years, but had been ignored by the medical community.

"It's time for everyone to pull their heads out of the sand."

...questioned whether it was morally right to be using the science in this way... She warned against "turning babies into commodities that you buy off the shelf."

Parental choice...

Eugenic Movement was very strong in the U.S. during the 1920's --'30's. It had several academic associations and published numerous scholarly journals, including "EUGENICS: A Journal of Race Betterment".

"Breeding population retains an identity..."

REFERENCE: Territorial Imperative, Ardrey

"Each breeding population retains an identity with its own stamping ground, making interbreeding unlikely. Genetic isolation is thus achieved.

"... the basic evolutionary unit is not the individual but the population...

"...in almost all populations there are... 'reproductive isolating mechanisms'...

"...in the human species such barriers as language and religion, geography, provinces, nations, tribes, classes, occupations divide us into... reproductive communities."

REFERENCE: Territorial Imperative, Ardrey

"... lemurs... co-operating groups... social groups... powerful attachment to territory.

"It is in... true lemurs that we find the first primate biological nations.

"...that we tend to kill each other, and to take each other's land away... A lemur... would regard it as a violation of natural law.

"... the mechanism isolating and integrating the howler clan is its defense of a social territory. The territories of the callicebus, the sifaka, the black lemur... are cleanly delimited. The territories of howler clans are... vague.

"There is nothing in the territorial principle to deny peace among nations... territory is conservative, that it is invariably defensive, that the biological nation is the supreme natural mechanism for the security of a social group."

"University scientist... links religious beliefs to genetic makeup"

REFERENCE: Minneapolis Star Tribune, 2-7-1990

"The religious attitudes of adults, like much of human behavior, are as strongly influenced by genes as they are by the environment, according to a new study by a University of Minnesota center that studied twins raised apart.

"The finding that religious beliefs seem to be significantly influenced by genes is 'absolutely astounding,' said... chairman of the University of Minnesota Psychology Department...

"...the twins research... does not deal at all with the race question. ...has studied 11 traits... all seem to be about 50 percent influenced by genes.

"The genetic versus environmental nature of intelligence... many scientists feel it has a racist air to it.

"... Bouchard did say his findings closely match earlier work by other scientists that indicate that intelligence is linked to genetics."

"Hybridization and Extinction"

REFERENCE: American Scientist, May–June 2002

"...in some circumstances separate species will mate, and if such a liaison is successful, a hybrid results.

"Botanists believe that hybridization between species happens in 6 to 16 percent of plant genera. Crossing between species is less common in animals, although it is not infrequent in some groups. For example, 9 percent of all bird species hybridize. Such a blurring of taxonomic lines also takes place within primate genera, including lemurs, gibbons, and baboons.

"With hybridization so rampant, one wonders how species ever maintain their distinctness... As Darwin had observed, most hybrids are inferior to their parents. Some abort as embryos... and others still grow to adulthood but cannot reproduce. (Mules, for example...) Hence many hybrids are unable to pass their genes back to members of their parent species.

"That hybrids can survive at all is a reflection of the similarity between the parents. That they are usually weak and sterile is a reflection of the differences of the parents, whose two sets of genes were really not meant to work together. Hybridizing a species is like building a car with half GM and half Chrysler parts.

"...under some circumstances, hybrids can be superior to their parents.

"Although hybridization and the enhanced adaptability it provides is sometimes beneficial, it can also be detrimental..."

Let's apply this to humans...

"L.A. is segregated... a lot of racial tension"

Comment: If multi-culturalism is not working, one solution is to begin making plans for separate religious-tribal territories like Israel, Ireland, Japan, Germany, Slovenia, Croatia, Korea, Taiwan, China, Zimbabwe, a Palestinian homeland, an Inuit homeland, Quebec...

Where can a girl carry a bucket of gold across town in safety?

ONLY IN AREAS THAT HIT AROUND 84% OF THE FOLLOWING LIST:

- RELIGION: Where there is a predominate interest in a basic religion.
- CULTURE: Where there is a predominate religious, moral, and healthy culture.
- ECONOMY: Where there is a middle class and stable economy for most members.
- RACE OR TRIBE: Where there is either one strong predominate race or tribe, or the other similar factors are extra strong.
- TERRITORY: Where there are defensive walls and clearly defined neighborhoods.
- NUTRITION: Where most people eat a healthy diet, and there is minimum alcohol, smoking and drugs for all residents.

THE SAFEST CITIES IN THE WORLD:

- Many cities in Europe and Japan, and a few cities in the USA...
- These cities all tend to rank high in the above list.

THE MOST DANGEROUS CITIES IN THE WORLD:

- Ware zones around the world, London, Detroit, St. Louis, Los Angeles...
- These cities all tend to rank lowest in the above list.

EPIGENETICS

DISCOVER MAGAZINE, November 2006, p. 33

“The new science of epigenetics rewrites the rules of disease, heredity, and identity.”

“...a growing body of evidence suggesting that the epigenetic changes wrought by one’s diet, behavior, or surroundings can work their way into the germ line and echo far into the future.”

“...an epigenetic change in nematode worms can be inherited for 80 generations.”

“...what we inherit from our parents are chromosomes, and chromosomes are only 50 percent DNA. The other 50 percent is made up of protein molecules, and these proteins carry the epigenetic marks and information.”

“The diet, behavior, and environmental surroundings of today’s parents can indeed reshape their hereditary legacy for generations to come.”

“...data drawn from two centuries of records... in northern Sweden... a grandfather’s access to a plentiful food supply affected the mortality rates of grandsons only, not those of his granddaughters, and a paternal grandmother’s experience of feast affected the mortality of her granddaughters, not her grandsons.”

“...a wide array of personality traits, including temperament and intelligence, may be affected by epigenetic inheritance.”

REFERENCE: The Ledger, (a subsidiary of the N.Y. Times), 10-1-2002

"A company in Sarasota is offering a DNA test that it says will measure customers' racial ancestry, and their ancestral proportions if they are of mixed race.

"Claiming to be 'the world's first recreational genomics testing service,' the company, DNAPrint Genomics, Inc., says its test will be useful for people interested in their own origins as well as for more practical purposes, like 'to validate your eligibility for race-based college admissions or government entitlements.'

"A test costs $290, or $160 for an initial period, and is conducted on DNA from cells swabbed from the inside of a customer's cheek.

"Geneticists independent of the company expressed reservations about the accuracy... noting that there was still relatively little data about genetic differences among ethnic groups."
